

Why You Should Consider Our Firm

Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein offers rich and rewarding opportunities for personal and professional growth, recognition, and achievement in the challenging and ever-changing field of intellectual property law. If your ambition is to be at the forefront of legal practice in the intellectual property field, you will find our firm offers you unparalleled opportunities to work hands-on with partners and with our clients.

Once seen as a technical specialty -- albeit a highly respected one -- intellectual property law now stands front and center in the strategic plans of sophisticated global corporations. As our economy grows in the 21st Century, the intrinsic value of IP assets has become increasingly clear, and as a result the visibility of, and demand for, highly talented and proficient IP attorneys has never been greater.

“The size of the firm was definitely a draw for me: Not too big, not too small. We’re basically the size of most big firms’ entire IP departments—which means we can handle anything.”

—Michael Kasdan, 6th-year associate

Simply stated, as value in the global economy migrates from supplying conventional manufacturing and services to delivering knowledge and innovation, IP has taken center stage. At Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein, we are fortunate to have a roster of high-profile, multinational clients, which enable us to provide our attorneys broad experience in the technology and legal aspects of IP Practice.

And our practice is as international as our clients. Both domestically and internationally, they rely on us to protect their intellectual property rights in any jurisdiction or country in which they may be challenged. We have the experience to meet our clients' patent, trademark and copyright needs before virtually any foreign court or governing body.

Furthermore, our size provides associates with personal and professional benefits larger firms are unable to match:

- One-on-one mentoring relationships with partners, counsel, and senior associates
- A commitment to your career growth from the day you arrive through your development into a seasoned counselor to and advocate for your clients
- Early assignments as a key team member in litigation or transactional matters
- Recognition and reward for contributions to the firm's success
- Opportunity for worldwide travel
- Competitive salary and benefits packages
- A warm and professional work environment: Four contiguous floors on Park Avenue in the heart of midtown New York.

The partners of Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein invite you to learn more about our firm and why it might be right for you. Please contact our hiring partner, Dan Ebenstein, directly at debenstein@arelaw.com to discuss career opportunities.