The United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) yesterday announced extensions to the time allowed to file certain patent and trademark-related documents and to pay certain required fees, all under temporary authority provided to the USPTO by the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act), unanimously passed by the U.S. Senate on March 25th and signed by President Trump on March 27, 2020.

As far as patent applications and reexaminations are concerned, these extensions apply to the matters with original deadlines falling on or after March 27, 2020 and until April 30, 2020, and including the following:

- Response to an Office Action;
- Response to Notice of Non-Compliant Amendment;
- Payment of Issue Fee;

This delay applies to applicants, patent owners, petitioners, third party requesters, inventors, and their counsel if personally affected by the COVID-19 outbreak including, without limitation, office closures, cash flow interruptions, inaccessibility of files or other materials, travel delays, personal or family illness, or similar circumstances, such that the outbreak materially interfered with timely filing or payment.

We will continue to monitor the situation. For more informatio, please feel free to contact us.
