

In the Press: K-C Diaper Patent Wiped Out In First Quality IP Suit

- IP Law360, December 5, 2011

Law 360 reports on December 2, 2011:

Law360, New York (December 05, 2011, 1:22 PM ET) -- A Wisconsin federal judge on Saturday ruled against Kimberly-Clark Worldwide Inc. in its ongoing patent dispute against First Quality Baby Products LLC, finding that a K-C diaper manufacturing patent is a clone of a previously registered process.

First Quality attorney Kenneth P. George told Law360 on Monday that his client wasn't surprised by Judge Griesbach's ruling, as the judge "had previously expressed concern" as to the validity of the '451 patent.

"First Quality is pleased with the court's ruling," George said.

First Quality is represented by Kenneth P. George, Ira E. Silfin, Brian A. Comack and formerly Michael J. Kasdan and Michael V. Solomita of Amster Rothstein & Ebenstein LLP